"Our earth is but a small star in the great universe. Yet of it we can make, if we choose, a planet unvexed by war, untroubled by hunger or fear, undivided by senseless distinctions of race, color or theory."

Franklin D. Roosevelt's address to the United States on Flag Day, June 14, 1942

JL 25 '68

J. Garton Needham . . .

Vice President 1946-1968
Psychology Department Member 1936-1942; 1946-
Dean of Instruction 1957-1965
Director of Institutional Studies 1968-

a tribute

While titles define, they are incapable of description—especially when the object is a personality. Mr. Needham has served, and continues to serve, Simmons College in many capacities, but his service to the school and the students passes beyond the limits of his offices.

As an administrator, he supports the student and the College simultaneously. Fairness and a strong sense of responsibility characterize his actions and earn him the confidence and respect of students.

As a professor, Mr. Needham transfers his enthusiasm and commitment to the student. Dynamic and intense, he is in constant motion, living his subject.

However, it is as a person and a personality that Mr. Needham best serves Simmons. His artless poise and comfortable dignity enrich every event whether he is dancing the Frug at Olde English Dinner or leading the processional at Commencement.

Mr. Needham has been Simmons' "Man of the Year" for many years and we hope he will continue to be for many years to come.

To the members of the Class of 1968, I express my sincere appreciation for all that you have done to help your College. I hope that you will find in the years ahead that your Simmons education aided you in your search for intellectual development and personal fulfillment, and that as you reflect upon the time you spent here, you will feel it was indeed a wise investment. I hope you will come back to visit often in the years ahead.
